

"Wheel of the Teachings" is a gentle adventure game, incorporating Buddhist teachings. As you walk through a painted landscape, your goal is to find and collect all of the hidden wheels. Each wheel represents one spoke of Buddha's 8-Fold Path. For each 2 wheels you discover, you will then be able to find one of the Four Noble Truths. Along the way, you'll also find quotations from the sayings of Buddha, as well as mantras and sutras.

"Wheel of the Teachings" is distributed as a gift of dharma. However, if you do wish to make a monetary donation, it may be sent to:

Playing The Game

"Wheel of the Teachings" is a non-violent walk-through game. The goal is to find all of the hidden wheels. The wheels look like this:

The best strategy to use in the game would be to click on everything you see. Sometimes you'll find wheels, sometimes you'll find sutras and mantras, sometimes you'll see quotations from the sayings of Buddha.

For each 2 of the wheels you find, you'll then be able to find one of the Four Noble Truths, which are represented here by books:

You'll find one of these books on each of the game's four levels.

In order to complete each level, you must find both of that level's wheels and its Noble Truth (book). Once you do so, you will be able to go to the next level.

Cursor Feedback

This game uses a "cursor feedback" system. You'll know when you've found something when your normal cursor changes to this:

Similarly, you'll know which directions are available for movement according to the way the cursors change:

Look up

Go Back (or Look Down)

Go Left

 Go Right

The cardinal rule of gameplay is: click on everything!

One is not a bearer of the teaching by virtue of much speaking, but he who, even if he has only studied a little, has experienced the truth in person, he is indeed a bearer of the teaching, who has not forgotten the teaching.
