

Dear Customer,

Now you can have a software store right on your desk.

Just pop in the enclosed CD-ROM disc, and you'll have more than 75 software products at your fingertips. So you can run demos or check product information anytime.

Then, when you're ready to buy, all it takes is a phone call to unlock the complete program, including electronic manuals, right from the CD. You get the convenience of shopping in the comfort of your home or office, without ever having to wait for delivery.

With your free CD, you'll be among the first to see how convenient software shopping can be. Just try when you want, buy when you're ready. It's that simple.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Scott Schnell".

Scott Schnell
General Manager
Software Dispatch

P.S. To get you started, we'll even give you a choice of free programs with your first order. So why not give it a try today?